

Risk Management

Organisational Risk Management is a discipline for living with the possibility that future events may cause adverse effects. Those who do not understand the risks or miscalculate the risks stand to be exploited by those who understand them better.

Best Practice Solutions

Organisational risk advice

Quinica's Risk Management consultancy services have been designed for Senior Executives looking to ensure that corporate vision and mission objects are properly aligned with the company's risk appetite, policies and procedures.

Organisational Risk Management is an integrated or holistic approach to understanding and managing the unique risks an organization faces across all functional areas and their interdependencies, with the view to improve the quality of decision-making throughout the organisation.

The integrated Quintica approach aligns the organisation's vision and goals with active risk mitigation principals. This approach examines risk in terms of People, Processes, Systems and External Events at all levels, the ultimate aim being to provide our clients with the tools to manage and ultimately mitigate risk effectively.

Implementing a robust Organisational Risk Management framework has many benefits. Most importantly, cost control as all staff in the organisation will be enabled to make risk-intelligent decisions and in so doing, reduce operational losses.

Most frameworks in today's organisations focus on a historic view of the risk exposures and add very little value to business operations.

Global standards

What you need

Our consultants can assist to verify that Organisational Risk Management strategy, risk management processes, organisational resources & skills and risk technology infrastructure are in alignment. We provide a variety of specialised and targeted services spanning from risk strategy workshops with executive leadership to in-depth analysis and departmental risk mitigation action plans.

We base our approach on international industry standards and best practice, providing guidance and expert advice that is intended to be complementary to existing competencies within your organization.

Delivering foundations

Building a risk intelligent organisation

Managing your organisation's exposure to risk is an ongoing process only made possible through a disciplined approach.

Our Q Journey will help you achieve Proactive Risk Mitigation & Good Risk Governance throughout your organisation.

Our consulting services and solutions include:

For more information, please contact:

Quintica Middle East
Suite 202, Building 25
Dubai Health Care City
Dubai,
UAE

Phone: +971 4 426 7303

Fax: +971 4 426 7302

Email: info.me@quintica.com

